

NORTH DAKOTA'S LARGEST LIFELONG LEARNING
COMMUNITY

It's easy to find a gym to keep your body healthy, but what about your brain? At Humanities North Dakota (HND), we create classes and events that are like group fitness for your mind.

Join in the exercise of ideas by becoming a member and turn your gray matter into what matters.

OUR MISSION

It shouldn't be difficult, frustrating, or expensive to pursue a journey of lifelong learning. That's why since 1973, Humanities North Dakota has developed affordable and engaging lifelong learning opportunities.

BENEFITS OF LIFELONG LEARNING

- You get to take all Public University classes for free
- You're invited to members-only events throughout the year
- You receive Humanities ND magazine in your mailbox quarterly
- You can register for classes and events before the general public
- You have access to our vault of recorded events, so you never have to miss out

WHO CAN BECOME A MEMBER?

Anyone 18 years of age or older can become a member. It doesn't matter what education level you've attained. Our programs are for everyone who is intellectually curious. You can be the one who sits in the back of the classroom and listens more than they talk or the social butterfly with endless questions; you will fit right in! We keep our class sizes small and intimate, while the doors to our public events are wide open. You will find the program that fits your needs in a supportive environment.

DO I HAVE TO LIVE IN ND?

No. While most of our members are residents of the state, we welcome the ideas and world views that come from outside our state's borders.

HOW DO I BECOME A MEMBER?

Humanities North Dakota is a 501(c)3 nonprofit. To become a member, donate by using our secure online donation system at humanitiesnd.org/donate, request a donation envelope by emailing membership@humanitiesnd.org, or mail a check to Humanities North Dakota, Box 2191, Bismarck, ND 58502.

YOUR DONATION:

- sustains our current programs
- supports new programs, both online and in-person
- grows the culture of lifelong learning in North Dakota

WHO IS IRIS, AND WHY IS SHE ALL OVER OUR MARKETING?

Known as "Red Iris" for her penchant for all things crimson, you can always pick Iris out of a crowd at a humanities event, and she hopes you say hello when you do! Iris's love of learning started young and carried her through her career as the Velva School and Public Library librarian. A member of Humanities North Dakota for over 30 years, today, Iris is our volunteer spokesperson because she loves our mission and wants to help us grow our community of lifelong learners. Be like Iris, become a member of Humanities North Dakota!
